

Taking Stock of a Decade-long Evidence-based Experiences of Flood-Based Livelihoods Systems (FBLs) in Africa & Asia: Knowledge and Experience Sharing Symposium

Dates: 4th – 8th March 2019
Venue: Voi Wildlife Lodge
Taita Taveta County
Kenya

Introduction

ICRAF together with MetaMeta, IWMI, FBLN and the Ministry of Agriculture, Livestock, Fisheries and Irrigation- Directorate of Land Reclamation and National Irrigation Board (NIB) are jointly organizing a symposium as a platform for sharing experiences (through discussions and field visits) as well as cross-fertilization of knowledge on FBLs through the following thematic areas:

- Towards more efficient and resilient flood water governance and management systems;
- Innovative proven SMART (Simple, Market-based, Affordable, Repairable and Technically feasible) technologies in FBLs;
- Good agronomic farming practices for improved livelihoods and food security;
- Job creation particularly for young people and women in FBLs sectors;
- Agroforestry and livestock management in FBLs;
- Resilient appropriate and cost-effective road water harvesting practices; and
- ICT empowered horizontal learning (a cross cutting theme) to further upscale the knowledge and experiences shared.

Participation fee:

The full participation fee is USD. 800. This entails the following items:

- Registration fee
- Local Transport in Kenya

- Accommodation

Participation is open to FBLS practitioners across the world, i.e. those engaged in using flood water for livelihood enhancement.

Target group:

Senior, mid and junior professionals on FBLS.

Application:

Click here for more information and application. For the application, click on the 'download icon' which is at the top right corner of the screen and fill in the form.

1. For Further Information contact:

Eunice Wamwangi

Phone: +254 722 713339 or +254 711 034 419 or +254 708 515 155

Email: E.Wamwangi@cgiar.org

2. For Technical Support contact:

Alex R. Oduor

Phone: +254 717 737346 or +254 711 034 424

Email: A.Oduor@cgiar.org

NB: Deadline for application: 16th February 2019.